

Orgonite
(or-go-nite)

BASE MIXTURE METALS

Experience the profound effects of our Orgonite creations, handcrafted with a blend of metals and other energetic materials. African Goddess Curated invites you to embrace the transformative power of Orgonite and create a harmonious space filled with positive energy and protection.

By combining Aluminium, Brass, and Copper in our Orgonite, we create a dynamic metal matrix that supports the transformation and harmonization of energy.

In addition to the metals, our Orgonite also includes a Crystal Dust Blend, Ormus Powder, and other carefully selected materials. This synergistic blend of elements further amplifies the protective and transformative qualities of our creations.

We take pride in crafting each piece of Orgonite with intention, care, and respect for the materials we use. The metals present in our Orgonite play a significant role in creating a powerful energy matrix that shields you from negative energies and supports your well-being.

Base Mixture – Metals:

Harnessing the Power of Metals in Our Orgonite Creations

At African Goddess Curated, we understand the importance of utilizing specific metals in our Orgonite creations to enhance their energetic properties. Each metal brings its unique qualities to the mix, resulting in a harmonious and transformative energy matrix.

Let's explore the metals we incorporate and their remarkable contributions:

Aluminium:

Aluminium is a highly conductive metal that plays a vital role in our Orgonite. It acts as a reflector, bouncing off unwanted energies and preventing their penetration into your space. By reflecting and repelling negative energies, Aluminium helps create a protective barrier, keeping your environment harmonious and balanced.

Brass:

Brass is a combination of Copper and Zinc and it is known for its grounding properties. In our Orgonite, Brass helps to anchor and stabilize the energy field. It acts as a foundation, providing a solid grounding connection to the Earth's energies. This grounding effect brings a sense of stability, promoting inner strength and resilience.

Copper:

Copper is a powerful conductor of energy and has been revered for centuries for its energetic properties. In our Orgonite, Copper acts as a bridge, facilitating the flow of energy within the matrix. It helps to distribute and balance the energy, ensuring a harmonious resonance throughout. Copper also amplifies the properties of other Crystals and materials present, enhancing their effectiveness.